2009 Review

Travis Nollisch and Ben Skidmore

The Razorbacks began the 2009 indoor track season with a team of experienced veterans under the leadership of first year head coach Chris Bucknam.

The Razorbacks won eight events to open 2009 at the Arkansas Invitational, including one NCAA automatic-qualifying mark and two provisional qualifiers.

Nkosinza Balumbu began with a solid start in the triple jump winning the event with an automatic qualifying jump of 53-0.75. Daniel Quinn finished second in the triple jump behind Balumbu, measuring a jump of 51-3.5, good enough for an NCAA provisional qualifier.

Tarik Batchelor made his Razorback debut an exciting one. Competing in the long jump, he won the event with an NCAA provisional-qualifying jump of 25-2.75. Other event winners included J-Mee Samuels in the 60 meters (6.76p/6.80f) and Chris Bilbrew in the 600 meters (1:18.95).

Arkansas also picked up event wins from newcomers Dorian Ulrey (800 meters, 1:51.29), Nate Durham (high jump, 6-8.75) and Ben Skidmore (400 meters, 48.15). All three were making their Razorback debuts in the Arkansas Invitational.

Day one of the Razorback Invitational included a spectacular performance from Razorback jumpers as well as a solid start for the DMR. Arkansas debuted one version of its distance medley relay and achieved its goal of picking up a provisional qualifier. The quartet of Ulrey in the 1,200 meters, Jake Stephens in the 400 meters, Bilbrew in the 800 meters and Duncan Phillips in the mile put together a time of 9:44.66.

For the second straight meet, Batchelor won the long jump. His winning jump of 25-6 was an improved provisional mark and a season best.

On day two of the Razorback Invitational, Ulrey clocked an NCAA automatic-qualifying time of 3:57.60 in the mile, good for a second-place finish. His time ranks No. 8 on the Arkansas all-time list.

In the triple jump, the Razorbacks picked up two provisional qualifiers from Batchelor and Quinn. Batchelor tied for first with his jump of 52-6.5. Quinn improved his provisional mark to 51-3.5 with a fourth-place finish.

The Hogs took their first road trip of the season to the Washington Invitational and saw many impressive performances including a new school record. On day one of the event, Alex McClary (1,200 meters; 2:55), Skidmore (400 meters; 47.7), Bilbrew (800 meters; 1:49) and Ulrey (mile, 3:54) combined for a time of 9:28.35 to win the DMR.

The group's time is an Arkansas school record, a Dempsey Indoor Track record, an NCAA automatic-qualifying mark and the national and SEC leader in 2009. The time of 9:28.35 replaced the previous school record of 9:28.78.

Day two of the UW Invitational was just as exciting, as the Razorbacks finished first and second in the invitational 3,000 meter run, collecting a pair of NCAA automatic qualifiers. Ulrey's winning time in the 3K, 7:50.86, was the national leader, the SEC leader and automatically qualified him for the NCAA Championships. With the qualifier Ulrey had automatically qualified for three events at the NCAA Championships – the mile, the 3,000 meters and the DMR. Following right on the heels of his teammate, Shawn Forrest finished second in the 3K with a 7:51.07, also an automatic qualifier and the No. 7 time on Arkansas' list.

The 2009 Tyson Invitational was a whirlwind of activity for the Arkansas Razorbacks. The Hogs picked up two NCAA automatic qualifiers and a slew of season bests. Forrest in the 5,000 meters and Alain Bailey in the long jump picked up the auto marks. McClary improved his provisional mark in the 800 meters and the 4x400-meter relay clocked a season best.

Alex McClary

J-Mee Samuels

Forrest's time of 13:37.77 was No. 3 on the Arkansas all-time list, No. 3 on the NCAA list and led the SEC. The time was also a personal best for the Melbourne, Australia native.

In the long jump, Bailey soared to a mark of 25-10.25. The jump was an NCAA auto qualifier, a season best, tied his indoor personal best, lead the SEC and ranked No. 2 on the NCAA list.

McClary fared well in a talented heat of the 800 meters. He finished fifth with a time of 1:49.37. His time was an improved NCAA provisional mark, ranked No. 8 on the NCAA list and was the No. 2 time in the SEC.

The Hogs had continued success on day two of the Tyson Invitational, picking up three new provisional qualifying marks. Bilbrew's 800-meter provisional-qualifying time of 1:49.90 won the event and was a new personal best. Phillips clocked a 1:49.92 to finish second. His time is also a personal best and an NCAA provisional qualifier.

On day one of the SEC Championships in Lexington, Ky., Durham and Terry Prentice both had strong starts in the heptathlon. After the first day, Durham sat in sixth place with 2,884 points after four events. His 60-meter time and shot put were personal bests. Prentice, competing in his first collegiate heptathlon, was in seventh place after four events with 2,850 points.

In his SEC Championships debut, Ulrey won his first conference title, the 3,000 meters. Ulrey battled at the back of the lead pack before taking the race lead with about 200 meters to go. Ulrey passed runners from Alabama and teammate Forrest to take the tape. He clocked a winning time of 7:55.56.

Arkansas runners also finished second and sixth in the 3,000-meter run. Forrest clocked an automatic qualifying time of 7:56.45 and James Strang came in sixth with a provisional-qualifying time of 8:01.38. The 1-2-6 finish in the 3,000 meters netted 21 points for the Razorbacks, who entered the final day in first place with 37 points.

The Razorbacks also had some important scorers in the field events. Hurdler-turned-heptathlete, Prentice finished seventh in the grueling seven-event competition with 5,023 points. His point total was the second-best in school history.

In the long jump, Bailey's best jump of the day measured 25-1.75, good for a runner-up finish and the fifth All-SEC honor of his career. Batchelor was fourth with a jump of 24-7.75. Earlier in the day, Bailey also finished eighth in the high jump with a clearance of 6-7.

Arkansas entered the final day of the SEC Championships in first place with 37 points in the team race, with Florida and Tennessee just four and five points back, respectively.

Arkansas' day started when Samuels hit the line for the 60-meter finals. He had a near-perfect start and wowed the crowd with a runner-up finish and got the ball rolling for his teammates. His time of 6.63 replaces his previous school record and automatically qualified him for the NCAA Championships.

Arkansas' next event, the mile run, stunned the crowd when the Hogs took first, second, fourth and eighth, good for 24 points. Ulrey won his second SEC title of the weekend with a winning time of 3:59.77. Phillips earned a runner-up finish and his first All-SEC honor with a time of 4:01.30. Michael Chinchar finished fourth (4:03.52) and Rick Elliott was eighth (4:08.33).

The 5,000 meters produced 12 points for Arkansas as Forrest and Strang finished second and fifth, respectively. Forrest, earning his second All-SEC honor of the weekend and the seventh of his career, clocked a time of 13:46.26. Strang ran a time of 14:05.04, good for an NCAA provisional mark.

Balumbu finished second in the triple jump. His best mark of the day, 52-1.25, earned his seventh All-SEC honor and a runner-up finish. Batchelor finished third in the event with a jump of 50-2.75.

McClary ran his first great race of the weekend in the 800-meter finals. Jockeying for good position, McClary made his move just before the final turn and out-kicked the pack to take the tape. He clocked a time of 1:49.37.

The 200 meters produced 12 points as Marek Niit and Samuels finished second and fifth, respectively. Niit clocked a time of 20.90 and Samuels a 20.98. Both improved their NCAA times and Niit's time is the sixth-fastest in school history.

After a runner-up finish in the mile, Phillips anchored the DMR to a triumphant win. Chinchar, Stephens, McClary and Phillips combined for a time of 9:47.31. The quartet earned 10 points and gave the Hogs a 127-92 lead over Florida going into the final event of the day, the 4x400-meter relay.

Arkansas ended on a high note as the mile relay picked up a sixth-place finish. Skidmore, Travis Nollisch, Niit and Bilbrew combined for a time of 3:10.18.

The Hogs improved four qualifying times at the Arkansas Last Chance Meet. In the 800 meters, Bilbrew won the event with a time of 1:48.40. His clocking was a personal best by more than a second, was an improved NCAA provisional time and is No. 10 on Arkansas' all-time list. He was the first student-athlete to crack the Arkansas 800-meter top 10 list since James Hatch in 2005. McClary was right behind Bilbrew with a third-place finish and a time of 1:49.23. McClary's time was also an improved NCAA provisional mark.

Phillips won the mile with a time of 4:00.02. Just off the NCAA auto qualifier, his time was a personal best by more than one second, and was an improved NCAA provisional qualifier. Chinchar was third in the mile. He clocked a personal best and improved NCAA provisional time of 4:02.30.

The Razorbacks picked up a silver and a bronze finish in event finals on day one of the NCAA Indoor Championships in College Station, Texas. Forrest finished third in the exciting 5,000 meters. He clocked a time of 13:44.78 to earn the second All-America honor of his career and the first indoors.

Arkansas put its "A" team DMR on the track for what was promised to be a highly contested race. Battling Oregon and its two Olympians on the final two legs, Arkansas picked up a second-place finish in the day's final event. Phillips, Skidmore, McClary and Ulrey combined for a time of 9:30.31. All four members of the DMR earned their first All-America honor in an Arkansas uniform.

Ulrey took the weight of the Razorback team on his shoulders during the NCAA weekend, competing in four races, including three separate miles, in two days. He ended his first NCAA Championship as a Razorback with a third-place finish in the mile (4:02.19) and a ninth-place finish in the 3,000 meters (8:03.26). Ulrey picked up All-America honors in all three events.

Phillips also competed in the finals of the mile. He finished 11th with a time of 4:08.73 but was among the top eight Americans and earned his second All-America honor of the weekend.

Balumbu, at his final NCAA Indoor Championships, finished fifth in the triple jump with a mark of 53-0.25. He earned the sixth All-America honor of his career. Arkansas finished eighth with 24 points at the NCAA Indoor Championships and brought eight All-America honors back to Fayetteville.

Following an eighth-place finish during the indoor season, first year head coach Chris Bucknam looked to have continued success in the outdoor season. The Hogs opened at the Stanford Invitational. Shawn Forrest won the top section of the 5,000 meters. He clocked an NCAA- and SEC-leading time of 13:28.81. His time was also a regional qualifier, a personal best by nearly 18 seconds and ranked No. 7 on Arkansas' all-time list.

James Strang punched his ticket to the NCAA Championships with an eighth-place finish in the 10,000 meters. His time of 28:29.27 was a personal best and ranked No. 6 on Arkansas' all-time list. Lane Boyer also picked up an NCAA mark in the 10,000 meters. He finished 10th in the second section of the event with an NCAA provisional-qualifying and personal-best time of 29:07.02.

Andy McClary made his 2009 debut after missing the indoor season due to injury. He ran the top section of the 1,500 meters and finished eighth with a time of 3:45.42, qualifying him for the NCAA Mideast Regional Championships.

ARKANSAS

2010 Preview

Dorian Ulrey

In his second season with the Razorbacks, head coach Chris Bucknam has compiled a group of student-athletes with experience, ability and the drive to succeed for the 2010 track and field season.

The Razorbacks are led by seniors Alain Bailey, Scott MacPherson and Dorian Ulrey. Bailey is the 2009 Jamaican National Champion in the long jump, was a member of Team Jamaica at the 2009 IAAF World Championships in Berlin, has earned three-All-America honors and is the owner of four SEC titles. His potential in the long jump is tremendous and he also has the ability to provide big points in the high jump as the defending SEC Outdoor Champion.

"Alain brings a wealth of knowledge and experience to this team," Bucknam said. "He's a proven competitor and a terrific athlete. His leadership and experience will be vital to this team's success."

Bailey leads a group of jumpers that includes sophomore Tarik Batchelor, the 2009 SEC Outdoor Freshman Field Athlete of the Year and Jamaican Junior National Champion in the long jump. They will be joined by Arkansas state high and triple jump champion Micah Washington.

MacPherson returns for the indoor season only and is an All-American and SEC Champion in the steeplechase. Ulrey had a stellar junior campaign that included a trip to the 2009 IAAF World Championships in Berlin as a member of Team USA. During the 2009 track season, he earned four All-America honors, won three SEC individual titles and clocked some of the NCAA's fastest times in the 1,500 meters, the mile, the 3,000 meters and as a member of the distance medley relay.

"We are very fortunate to have Scott back for one more season," Bucknam said. "He's a great leader for this team and his experience is so beneficial at the championship meets."

Lane Boyer

MacPherson and Ulrey will lead a group of distance runners that includes two-time All-American Duncan Phillips, 2009 NCAA Mid-east Region 800-meter Champion Chris Bilbrew, SEC All-Freshman Team honoree Rick Elliott and SEC DMR Champion Jake Stephens.

They are joined by Footlocker Cross Country Champion Solomon Haile, Arkansas state champion Cameron Efurd, Tennessee state champion Leoman Momoh and Texas state champion Drew Butler.

"Our newcomers, across the board, are talented," Bucknam said. "This is a really great recruiting class for us. We have some of the top guys in the nation in their respective events wearing Arkansas uniforms. I'm very excited about the potential of this team."

The sprints and hurdles group is led by returning All-American Ben Skidmore and All-SEC performer Marek Niit. Skidmore was the 400-meter leg of the DMR that earned a runner-up finish at the NCAA Championships and set a new school record while Niit was the 2009 SEC Indoor runner-up at 200 meters.

Tarik Batchelor

The strong group of sophomores also includes R.J. Evans, Andrew Pennington and Travis Nollisch. They are joined by Iowa state champion Alex Kelly and Arkansas state champion and record holder Caleb Cross.

Arkansas' roster also includes three two-sport student-athletes in David Gordon, Cobi Hamilton and Chris Muncie, all members of the Razorback football team, as well. Gordon was one of the nation's top 200-meter runners in 2008 and was an Oklahoma state champion on the track. Hamilton is a Texas state champion at 200 meters and also shows potential in the 100-meter dash. Muncie will be looked to for the 200 meters and 400 meters and also to contribute on the various sprint relays.

"Our sprints crew has grown so much in the last year," Bucknam said. "That gives us depth in a very important event area of our team. This is a young group but with some learning experiences, I think they can be very successful."

Arkansas boasts 2008 SEC Javelin Champion Luke Laird. Pole vaulters for 2010 include senior Chad Burnett and sophomore transfer Stuart Sparks. SEC point-scorer Terry Prentice is back for the multi-events and may also compete in the hurdles and long jump.

The Razorbacks will host seven meets during the indoor season at the Randal Tyson Track Center, including the Arkansas vs. Texas dual (Jan. 16), the SEC Indoor (Feb. 26-28) and the NCAA Indoor Championships (March 12-13). Also on the schedule are the Arkansas Invitational, the Razorback Invitational, the Tyson Invitational and the Arkansas Last Chance.

Arkansas will travel for indoor meets to the Texas A&M Challenge, Jan. 29-30 in College Station, Texas, and the New Balance Collegiate Invitational, Feb. 5-6 in New York, N.Y.

"We are lucky enough to have the best indoor track in the U.S. right here in Fayetteville so we definitely want to take advantage of that with competitive home meets," Bucknam said. "The trips to Texas A&M and New York will give us a chance to see some teams and individuals that will be challenging and we can learn from."

The outdoor season will begin with the Stanford Invitational and the Razorback Spring Invitational, March 26-27. The Razorback Spring Invitational will be a one-day event (March 26) at John McDonnell Field.

Trips to Texas Relays (April 1-4) and Penn Relays (April 22-24) highlight the month of April. Arkansas will also travel to Austin, Texas for the Arkansas vs. Texas dual April 17 at Mike A. Myers Stadium. The John McDonnell Invitational is set for April 9-10.

"Our coaching staff and team are excited about the dual meet with Texas," Bucknam said. "Dual meets are great for collegiate track and field and the University of Texas always fields a competitive team. This is a great tradition we hope to be starting."

The championship season will begin May 14-16 with the SEC Championships in Knoxville, Tenn. Arkansas has been named to the NCAA West Regional and will compete in Austin, Texas May 27-29. The collegiate season will conclude with the NCAA Championships, June 9-12, in Eugene, Ore., on the campus of the University of Oregon.

As UNI's assistant coach, Case's sprinters and pole vaulters earned 43 All-America honors, including national championships in the 800 meters and the pole vault, and 68 NCAA Division I national meet qualifiers. UNI sprinters and vaulters dominated the Missouri Valley Conference over the last eight years, crowning 97 individual and relay conference champions.

Most recently, one of Case's student-athletes added NCAA 800-meter champion to his resume. At the 2008 NCAA Indoor Championships, UNI's Tyler Mulder took the half-mile title with a time of 1:49.20.

When it comes to the pole vault, Case built UNI into a national leader in the event. He developed three of the greatest vaulters in MVC history in Jacob Pauli, Andre Poljanec and Jarno Kivioja, a trio that claimed 12 MVC championships and eight All-America honors from 1999 to 2007.

Both Pauli, who claimed the pole vault national title at the 2001 NCAA Indoor Championships, and Poljanec competed at the 2007 IAAF World Championships in Osaka, Japan. Pauli, who owns UNI's indoor and outdoor school records, also took third at the 2007 AT&T USA Outdoor Nationals.

Poljanec earned the third All-America honor of his career at the NCAA Indoor Championships and was the nation's No. 1-ranked vaulter outdoors heading into regional competition. Kivioja concluded his career with a berth in the NCAA Outdoor Championships.

In all, Case's sprinters set school records in 10 events since 2001, including the 7.81-second effort by Jarrel Anderson in the 60 hurdles in 2007. He also guided Dirk Homewood to a career that included four All-America honors and school records in the 200 and 400 meters, both indoors and outdoors.

Prior to his return to UNI, Case spent the previous three seasons as the men's head coach at Drake University. Under his guidance, Drake set three school records during the indoor season, and its distance medley relay team placed ninth at the NCAA Championships.

At ASU, Case was responsible for recruiting 52 outdoor and 49 indoor individual conference champions. His recruiting classes included 39 NCAA Division I national qualifiers, four All-Americans, seven Olympic Trials qualifiers and three Olympians.

A former UNI standout as a sprinter, Case established eight school records between 1982 and 1986 and was an all-conference performer in the Mid-Continent Conference. He was a member of the school record-setting outdoor 4x100-meter, 4x200-meter and 4x400-meter relay teams, as well as the indoor 4x400-meter relay. Individually, he twice placed second at the AMCU meet in the 100 meters.

NCAA Individual Champions

Joe Falcon - 1987

One of the most decorated distance runners in Arkansas history, Joe Falcon compiled seven NCAA titles, 15 SEC crowns and was named an All-American 11 times. He was the 3,000-meter champion in 1987 and 1988, indoor mile champ in 1988, outdoor 10,000-meter champion in 1987, outdoor 1,500-meter champion in 1988 and NCAA cross country champion in 1987.

His NCAA win in 1987 propelled Arkansas to its third NCAA Cross Country team title. Falcon and the squad recorded a team score of 87 to edge out Dartmouth (119 points).

Falcon was ranked among the top distance runners in the world throughout his career by Track and Field News, including a No. 1 ranking at 5,000 meters in 1989 and 1,500 meters in 1990. He was the champion of the annual Oslo Dream Mile in 1990 in Oslo, Norway with a time of 3:49.31, a race that saw his fastest 1,500-meter split: 3:33.6.

Godfrey Siamusiye - 1995, 1996

A two-time Olympian for his native Zambia, Godfrey Siamusiye competed at 5,000 meters in the 1993 Barcelona Games and in the 3,000 meter steeplechase at the 1996 games in Atlanta. He finished 10th in his semifinal heat of the steeplechase with a time of 8:37.41. At Arkansas he was a two-time NCAA Champion in cross country (1995-96), and a back-to-back champion in the outdoor 10,000 meters (1995-96).

Siamusiye's race win in 1995 led Arkansas to its eighth NCAA Cross Country team title. The '95 squad scored 100 points to beat Northern Arizona's 142 points. Arkansas earned an NCAA runner-up finish in the team race behind Siamusiye's win in 1996.

He is also one of the many former Razorbacks to claim a title in the Firecracker Fast 5K in Little Rock, Ark, a feat he achieved in 1997.

One of the newest facilities on the University of Arkansas campus is the Randal Tyson Track Center, which was dedicated on Feb. 12, 2000. The new facility was the vision of former UA head coach John McDonnell and Athletic Director Frank Broyles and continues the tradition of building some of the finest facilities in the nation at Arkansas.

In its first year of operation, the $8 million facility hosted the Tyson Invitational, a meet on the Golden Spike Tour, the 2000 Southeastern Conference Championships and the 2000 NCAA Indoor Championships. In 2001 and 2002, the Randal Tyson Track Center once again served as the host for the Golden Spike Tour's Tyson Invitational and the NCAA Indoor Championships.

During the 2003 season, three events were held at the state-of-the-art facility: the SEC West Challenge, the Tyson Invitational and the NCAA Championships. The 2004 campaign saw four exciting events take place at the Randal Tyson Track Center, including the Arkansas, Razorback and Tyson Invitational meets and the national championships.

The schedule was full in 2005 as the Arkansas, Razorback and Tyson Invitationals and the SEC and NCAA Championships were all held at the Tyson Track Center.

A new 36x20 custom video scoreboard system by Daktronics was installed in time for the 2005 NCAA Championships. It features a 23x13 video display screen with instant replay, electronic timing and scoring capabilities.

The track itself is a 200-meter, 60-degree banked track that has 55-meter straightways running the entire length of the facility. It also includes men's and women's jumping runways and pits. The surface of the track is red and gray Mondo and was repainted in 2003.

With all of the big name events that are held in the facility, the Tyson Track Center was built to handle the demands for the many media outlets. The press box is two-tiered offering 50 seats and has an announcer's booth. There are four elevated camera positions located around the track. A media room is also available in the north concourse.

Outdoor home to the most successful program in NCAA history, John McDonnell Field is one of the top outdoor track and field facilities in the nation. Named for legendary head coach John McDonnell, the winner of 40 NCAA national championships, the facility is one of only two IAAF Class 1 certified track and field complexes in the U.S. and the first such facility on a collegiate campus.

The state-of-the-art competition areas include a nine-lane Mondo track, a grass infield as well as a full hammer cage and multiple throw areas. The pole vault and jumping pits are reversible and contain two sets of runways to accommodate multiple events. Capacity is currently set at 7,000 with the potential to hold 10,000 with additional construction.

John McDonnell Field played host to the 2006 Southeastern Conference Championships, the 2008 NCAA Mid-east Regional Championships, the 2009 NCAA Outdoor Championships, in addition to the annual John McDonnell Invitational. The 2006 SEC and 2009 NCAA meets were the first in what promises to be a long line of prominent events slated for the new facility.

Legendary University of Arkansas cross country and track and field head coach John McDonnell announced his retirement on April 21, 2008 following 36 years, 40 NCAA championships and 84 conference titles.

McDonnell's 40 national titles are more than any coach in any single-gender program in the history of collegiate athletics. He won five national triple crowns, 21 conference triple crowns, 34 consecutive cross country conference championships, including 17 straight in the Southeastern Conference, and has been named national, regional or conference coach of the year a total of 140 times.

From County Mayo, Ireland, McDonnell became head cross country coach of the Razorbacks in 1972, and head track and field coach in 1977-78. Since 1984, he won 19 national championships in indoor track, 10 in outdoor track and 11 in cross country. Since 1984, a total of 69 national titles have been awarded in those three sports, and McDonnell's teams won all but 29 of them.

His five national triple crowns came in 1984-85, 1991-92, 1992-93, 1994-95 and 1998-99; his 84 league titles include 46 in the SEC and 38 in the Southwest Conference, and a streak of 25 straight in all three sports from 1987-95; his 40 national championships include a string of 12 straight indoor titles from 1984-95, the longest streak of NCAA titles by any Division I school in any sport in collegiate history; and his teams have won at least one national championship in 21 of the last 26 years.

McDonnell, who earned his bachelor's degree from Louisiana-Lafayette in 1969, and coached at New Providence (N.J.) High School (1969-70) and Lafayette (La.) High School (1971) before coming to Arkansas, has won 16 more national titles than his next closest competitor (Pat Henry, LSU and Texas A&M), and only one other school, Texas-El Paso with three, has won a triple crown.

In addition to the championships, his list of honors includes membership in the halls of fame for National Track and Field, United States Track and Field and Cross Country Coaches Association (USTFCCA), USA Track and Field, Arkansas Sports and Louisiana-Lafayette as well as the University of Arkansas Hall of Honor. Arkansas' 7,000-seat outdoor facility, John McDonnell Field, is named in his honor.

A 30-time national coach of the year, 50-time conference coach of the year and 62-time region coach of the year, he coached all but three of Arkansas' 187 All-Americans. Those student-athletes combined to earn 656 All-America honors.

He also coached 25 Olympians, including a gold, silver and bronze medalist, 103 NCAA individual event champions and 326 individual event conference champions.

McDonnell won 46 of a possible 51 SEC championships (90 percent), including the 2008 indoor and outdoor conference titles.

McDonnell, who coached former Razorback Daniel Lincoln to the American record in the 3,000-meter steeplechase in July 2006, has been national coach of the year 12 times in indoor track, 11 times in outdoor track and seven times in cross country for a total of 30 awards. He was also named the NCAA Midwest Regional Coach of the Year three of the five years it has been presented (2003-05).

His tenure at Arkansas began in 1972 coaching cross country and assisting Ed Renfrow with the track program. When Renfrow left coaching, former Athletic Director Frank Broyles promoted McDonnell in time for the 1977-78 academic year.

Not only does the University of Arkansas allow its student-athletes to compete in two sports, it encourages it. Arkansas' legendary track and field program has combined forces with the Razorbacks' tradition-rich football program to provide student-athletes a chance to compete in the nation's most competitive conference in multiple sports.

This year's track and field roster features three freshmen, defensive back David Gordon and receivers Cobi Hamilton and Chris Muncie, that have strong backgrounds in both football and track and will look to follow in the footsteps of Arkansas' great two-sport student-athletes.

UA's most well-known two-sport star, and perhaps the greatest athlete in school history, is Clyde "Smackover" Scott. After a year of playing for the Naval Academy, he returned to Arkansas and helped the Hogs win the Southwest Conference football title in 1946 and was a consensus All-American in 1948. A NCAA champion in the 110-meter hurdles, he finished second in that event at the 1948 Olympics, winning a silver medal in London with a time of 13.7 seconds.

Offensive guard Tony Ugoh gave Arkansas strength in the throws department, helping rack up points in the weight throw at the 2006 SEC Indoor Championships.

Two-time All-American sprinter and cornerback Ahmad Carroll was the 25th pick of the first round by the Green Bay Packers in 2004. Flanker Richard Smith was a two-time All-American in the long and triple jumps as a Razorback and signed with Kansas City in 2004. Split end Tom Crowder (Dallas) and cornerback Eddie Jackson (Miami) were also taken in the 2004 NFL draft. Jackson was an All-American hurdler, while Crowder was a decathlete.

The University of ARKANSAS

The University of Arkansas is one of America's leading land-grant universities, and despite tough economic times nationwide Chancellor G. David Gearhart is optimistic: "There has never been a better time to be a student at the University of Arkansas."

The students and faculty have never been more academically accomplished, the university's facilities have never been more sophisticated, the research done on campus has never been more innovative. The more than 19,000 students have satisfied the highest academic standards in the university's history, while also being the most diverse student body ever on campus.

The 2009-10 academic year will be very challenging for everyone in higher education, especially students and their families, but the University of Arkansas is in a strong position to meet those challenges. The University avoided increasing student tuition for the first time in 24 years, thanks to careful budgeting and generous financial support from the state of Arkansas, alumni and university donors, as well as from the Department of Athletics. Chancellor Gearhart has also placed a priority on providing more scholarship support for students who are struggling to afford a university education.

The University of Arkansas, as a land-grant university, strives to fulfill a three-fold mission of teaching, research and service. The Fayetteville campus also serves as the flagship institution of the University of Arkansas system, which includes branch universities and the University of Arkansas for Medical Sciences. The University of Arkansas, as lead campus, serves as the state's major center of professional education, as the state's main source of theoretical and applied research and as a major engine for economic growth.

We Prepare Students to Succeed

At the University of Arkansas, we strive for excellence in everything we do, and we achieve it with nationally ranked academic programs as well as with our athletic teams. Here, successful students will join with other graduates to succeed as business executives, scientists, engineers, teachers, writers and Olympians.

Arkansas' true success is measured by its students. In the past 10 years, Arkansas has brought home more than its share of the nation's most prestigious undergraduate awards. In 2001-2002 the University of Arkansas was the only public or private institution in the country to have Rhodes, Marshall, Goldwater, Udall, NSF and James Madison recipients in the same academic year. The university continues each year to add to the overall total of highly competitive post-graduate awards won by Arkansas students. Walk through campus on Senior Walk. It features the names of all our graduates -- more than 120,000 of them. You will immediately feel connected to the pride, quality and tradition that go with an Arkansas degree.

World-Class Faculty

At Arkansas, excellence begins in the classrooms and laboratories. Faculty members value research and the creation of knowledge, knowing that investigating the unknown translates into first-rate teaching. They publish nearly 100 books each year, participate in conferences around the world, file patents for their innovative projects and win prestigious honors and awards.

World-Class Facilities

Over $700 million in construction projects were completed on campus in the past decade, are now under construction or are in the planning stages. These include plans to upgrade or renovate several of our historic buildings. The university is also engaged in an ambitious program to improve the energy efficiency of 35 of our buildings, in an on-going effort to create a sustainable campus.

Old Main

One of the original buildings of Arkansas' campus, Old Main symbolizes the strong connection to the past and the focus upon the future which come together in the present at the University of Arkansas. Completed in 1876, Old Main stood the test of time until the mid-1980s when age and modern building codes threatened to send it to the wrecking ball as it did its sister building at the University of Illinois. A major fund-raising campaign by alumni totally renovated Old Main. Reopening in 1992, the building maintains the feel of a Victorian-era building with high ceilings and elaborate wooden trim. Just below the surface of the period hardwood floors, Old Main is hard-wired to the internet and built to last well into its second century.

Even with renovation, Old Main remained unfinished until 2006. One of the gifts during the Campaign for the Twenty-First Century specified the installation of a clock, originally planned for the blank faces of the south tower.

As mentioned, Old Main was built from shared plans with its counterpart on the Illinois campus, with one important difference. The north tower of Arkansas' Old Main is taller than the south tower. Legend says this was symbolic of the Civil War as the lead engineer was a northern veteran.

The link to the past . . .

. . . that lives on today

Senior Walk

The University of Arkansas is proud to be the last university in the nation maintaining what once was a common tradition of etching its graduates' names into the campus sidewalks. The 100,000th graduate's name went down in cement during the 1990s. Senior Walk stretches over five miles of campus sidewalks. The story of Senior Walk is a perfect example of how the University of Arkansas brings its commitment to the past together with innovations for the future. When the costs involved in hand-etching names into concrete forced numerous other universities to give up, the University of Arkansas turned to its physical plant and engineering school grads to create a one-of-a-kind computerized sandblasting machine -- the SandHog. Each summer, the SandHog roars across the front lawn of Old Main, etching the names of graduates into sidewalks.

J. William Fulbright College of Arts and Sciences

The J. William Fulbright College of Arts and Sciences is named after former University President and U.S. Senator J. William Fulbright. The College, which includes the School of Social Work, offers degrees in the liberal arts, which span everything from ancient Egyptian dynasties to the latest discoveries in nanotechnology. Fulbright College students uncovered the world's largest nautiloid fossil, an eight-foot specimen that lived 325 million years ago and was found buried in a culvert near Fayetteville.

Our graduates are known throughout the world. We can thank alumnus Robert Maurer for the revolution in communications made possible by his invention of fiber optic cable. The College consists of 19 departments in the arts, sciences, humanities, and social sciences. Our flourishing honors program is built on the continuing success of our students. They regularly win competitive national awards, such as Marshall Scholarships, Barry Goldwater Scholarships, and NSF Fellowships. The College offers the premier Sturgis Fellowship for undergraduates.

Sam M. Walton College of Business

The Sam M. Walton College of Business is ranked among the top 25 public business schools in the United States. Named in honor of the world's most successful retailer and his family's generous 1998 gift of $50 million, the Walton College is Arkansas' flagship business school. The college offers two bachelor's degrees in six disciplines: accounting, economics, finance, information systems, manage-

World-Class Support

Investment in the future is critical, and the unprecedented Campaign for the Twenty-First Century that concluded in 2006 resulted in a billion dollar infusion of gifts to the University of Arkansas. The effort included the largest single gift to a U.S. public university in the history of American philanthropy: a $300 million gift from the Walton Family Charitable Trust. Primary among the programs created by the Walton gift was the designation of $200 million toward the establishment of the Honors College.

That kind of commitment from the state and the region is not uncommon. It was the effort of the city of Fayetteville and Washington County in submitting the highest bid to the state in the 1870s that resulted in the University of Arkansas opening its doors here on Jan. 22, 1872.

Broad range of degrees

At Arkansas, students can major in one of over 120 undergraduate disciplines, many of which prepare them for entry into graduate studies ranging from law to medicine.

Nine Colleges and Schools: One University

The University has five colleges and four schools to provide a wide range of majors, from agricultural business to biological engineering, from architecture to nursing, from transportation and logistics to international relations, all taught by nationally acclaimed faculty.

A program in nanoscience that combines students and faculty in physics and engineering has made the university the leader in production of nanomaterials for universities across the country.

No matter what students choose to study the University of Arkansas has the programs, the faculty and the facilities to prepare them for the careers they want in the future.

ment, and marketing and logistics, as well as five master's degrees, including the MBA, and two Ph.D. programs. In 2003, the Walton College introduced an innovative new business curriculum that integrates the business disciplines and better prepares its student for jobs. By connecting these disciplines, students see the big picture of a business. The college seeks to provide each student with experiences in and out of the classroom that simulate actual business so they are prepared for real-world and global opportunities. Established in 1926, the Walton College has been accredited by the AACSB International since 1931.

Whichever career path you choose, your engineering degree will prepare you to analyze situations and solve problems. You'll also be highly employable. According to the American Society for Engineering Education, starting salaries for engineers' average around $50,000.

Why choose the College of Engineering at the University of Arkansas? We're the only comprehensive engineering program in the state that offers undergraduate, graduate and doctoral degrees in seven different disciplines. We're also ABET-accredited, which means that your degree is recognized and respected by industry and academia.

Our low undergraduate student-to-faculty ratio (16 to 1) results in plenty of one-on-one coaching opportunities. Even as an undergrad, you'll work elbow to elbow with nationally and internationally recognized faculty and researchers.

Incoming freshmen benefit from the support of our Freshman Engineering Program. This program provides proactive support to students through orientation, peer mentoring, tutoring and supplemental instruction, academic advising, basic career advising, and academic skills development.

College of Education and Health Professions

The College of Education and Health Professions, which includes the Eleanor Mann School of Nursing, prepares the professionals who touch people's lives every day - teachers, coaches, nurses, speech pathologists, counselors, school administrators and specialists in health science, exercise and recreation. The college's mission is to enhance the quality of life of the people of Arkansas, the nation and the world through the development of scholar-practitioners in education, health and human services.

Our students are involved in the community in many ways, including educating elementary children about health care at fairs sponsored by the Eleanor Mann School of Nursing and working as classroom teaching interns in local school districts.

Students enjoy hands-on learning in such partnerships with school districts and through research with faculty members. Research includes examining school reforms, studying treatment methods to reduce hospital stays for chronic diseases and learning about language acquisition by children.

Faye Jones School of Architecture

The Fay Jones School of Architecture, named for one of the foremost architects of the 20th century, enjoys a national reputation for producing outstanding designers who are well prepared for professional practice in architecture and landscape architecture. Fay Jones was a member of the School's first graduating class and later served on the faculty and as the school's first dean. He received the AIA Gold Medal in 1990 at a White House ceremony; in 2000 the AIA ranked his Thorncrown Chapel in Eureka Springs as the fourth-best building by an American architect in the twentieth century.

Current faculty members continue to win national and international acclaim for their work. Students gain hands-on experience at the school's community design center, which has won numerous national and international design awards, and Garvan Woodland Gardens, the school's woodland botanical garden in Hot Springs. International study programs in Rome, Mexico City, and summer field studies in Europe also expand our students' perspective.

Honors College

One of the major benefits of the $300 million Walton gift was the dedication of $200 million for the Honors College to fund undergraduate University of Arkansas Honors College fellowships ($50,000 for four years), to establish special study abroad and undergraduate research opportunities, and to support outstanding faculty in their research and honors teaching efforts.

The Honors College serves all undergraduate majors. Honors students enjoy small classes, priority registration, special housing, increased interaction with faculty, and enhanced opportunities for hands-on research.

Within the college, the Scholarship Office and the Office of Post-Graduate Fellowships provide additional services. Promising high school seniors are assisted with their applications for the many available Sturgis, Bodenhamer, Boyer, and University of Arkansas Honors College fellowships, as well as Chancellor's and University scholarships.

Fulbright Peace Fountain

Honoring J. William Fulbright, the 41-foot fountain is the heart of a main plaza behind Old Main. A bronze statue of the former UA president and world-renowned U.S. Senator stands facing the fountain. Inset, former President Bill Clinton speaks at the dedication of the statue.

School of Law

Named by U.S. News and World Report among the "most diverse" law schools in America, the School of Law builds on more than 80 years of tradition and alumni success to promote professionalism, civility and leadership. Our students follow a rigorous course of study that prepares them for success in law practice, business, public service and more. Whether pursuing a J.D. or an LL.M. in the nation's only agricultural law program, students have the opportunity to expand and refine their lawyering skills - and to serve their community and state - through the Legal Clinic, an active and effective pro bono program and various skills courses. Students also may participate in the publication of one of three law journals - Arkansas Law Review, Journal of Food Law & Policy and Journal of Islamic Law & Culture. The law school's outstanding faculty not only nurtures and challenges our students, but is committed to research and outreach. A recently completed expansion of the law center includes a state-of-the-art courtroom and classrooms, two-story entrance hall, reading room, conference room and coffee shop, making it one of the most striking buildings on campus and a popular gathering place for the university community.

Dr. G. David Gearhart, Chancellor

Dr. G. David Gearhart became the fifth chancellor of the University of Arkansas on July 1, 2008, following 10 years of service to the university in his capacity as vice chancellor for university advancement. During that decade leading up to his appointment as the campus' chief executive, he was the architect of the Campaign for the Twenty-First Century – the largest, most successful capital campaign in Arkansas history, which raised more than $1 billion for academic programs and increased the endowment from $119 million to almost $900 million.

A native of Fayetteville, Ark., Chancellor Gearhart was born and raised in the shadow of Old Main. An alumnus of the university whose name is twice inscribed on Senior Walk for the law degree (J.D.) and doctor of education degree (Ed.D.) he earned, Gearhart feels that his entire adult life has prepared him for this singular honor and challenge.

"I believe the ultimate success of the University of Arkansas will be measured to a large extent on how it demonstrates its usefulness to society," Gearhart says. "Of all of the rich contributions that America has bestowed on the world, American higher education is among the most important. Our colleges and universities have become, perhaps, the most vital expression of the American political and social philosophy."

The path that would lead him back to his alma mater began in 1976, when Gearhart became assistant to the president at Westminster College in Fulton, Mo., where he received his baccalaureate two years earlier. In 1977, he was appointed the director of development at Westminster and led fundraising efforts for The Winston Churchill Memorial and Library. Thus was launched a nationally respected career in university advancement.

In 1978, he returned to his native state to become vice president for development at Hendrix College. After four years at Hendrix, Gearhart returned home for the first time when he was selected to be the director of development at the University of Arkansas. In this role, he spearheaded the Campaign for Books, which added more than 100,000 volumes to the University of Arkansas Library.

In 1985, Gearhart took another career leap in being appointed vice president for development and university relations at The Pennsylvania State University. Three years later, he was promoted to senior vice president, responsible for the external relations programs for 23 campuses statewide. While at Penn State, he launched a major capital campaign, which raised in excess of $352 million. Total private gifts to

Penn State during his 11 years at the university surpassed $950 million, and Gearhart's division was cited three times by the Council for Advancement and Support of Education (CASE) with its grand gold medal, awarded to the nation's top advancement program.

In 1995, Gearhart joined the international consulting firm of Grenzbach, Glier, and Associates as senior vice president and managing director, but stayed closely connected to advancing the mission of higher education. The Chicago-based philanthropic management firm has hundreds of clients in the United States, Canada and Europe, and fundraising goals in excess of $40 billion. Clients managed by Gearhart included nearly two dozen non-profit organizations, colleges and universities, among them American University, Brigham Young University, Rutgers University, University of Alabama, University of Connecticut, University of Miami (Fla.), University of Pittsburgh and University of Washington.

In 1998 Gearhart once again returned to his native state as vice chancellor for university advancement at the University of Arkansas. He was responsible for development, alumni relations, constituent relations, special events and university relations programs. Arguably, his most significant impact in this role was the stunningly successful Campaign for the Twenty-First Century, a billion-dollar capital campaign that concluded in June 2005 with the University of Arkansas taking its place as one of only 13 public universities at that time to have exceeded a billion dollars raised.

The centerpiece of this campaign was a $300 million gift from the Walton Family Charitable Support Foundation, the largest gift ever made to a public university. The direct results of Gearhart's leadership in this effort included the creation of 132 new endowed faculty positions, 1,738 new student scholarship and fellowship funds, dozens of new and renovated facilities and classrooms, and growth of the overall endowment from $119 million in 1998 to nearly $900 million by the time he assumed the chancellorship.

In every imaginable way, the university was transformed by this campaign.

"At the University of Arkansas our ultimate purpose is to improve the human condition, to make life better for our citizens and our state and to contribute to the general welfare of our nation," says Gearhart. "Thanks in part to the Campaign for the Twenty-First Century, we've become recognized as a rising star as a major public research university in a state where higher education must play an increasingly larger role in the lives of its citizens. Working with our sister public institutions and in partnership with our own university system, we must work hard and smart to increase the college participation rate and to strengthen the quality of Arkansas' higher education. We must be seen as enthusiastic leaders in this venture, all in a time of diminished public resources nationally that will not make it easy, but a challenge that we at the university must embrace."

Gearhart was named a distinguished alumnus of his undergraduate alma mater, Westminster College, in 1992, and the same year was named a Fulbright Scholar and studied at Oxford University, Merton College in Oxford, England. In 1996, he was named an honorary alumnus of Penn State, where he finished his doctoral coursework in higher education administration.

In addition to his responsibilities as chancellor, Gearhart is a tenured member of the faculty in the College of Education and Health Professions, holding the rank of professor. A nationally respected expert in capital campaigns, he is the author of two books, The Capital Campaign in Higher Education and Philanthropy, Fund Raising and the Capital Campaign, as well as numerous articles.

Among his current professional affiliations, Gearhart serves as vice president of the University of Arkansas Fayetteville Campus Foundation, is a member of the board of advisors for the Arkansas World Trade Center, is a member of the Northwest Arkansas Council, and is a member of the advisory board of the Pryor Center for Oral and Visual History. He also is a licensed attorney in the state of Arkansas.

Gearhart is married to the former Jane Brockmann, whom he married in 1974. They have two children: Katy, who is a graduate of Penn State University currently working as a speech pathologist; and Brock, a graduate of the University of Arkansas who is now a vice president of investments for Greenwood and Associates.

Gearhart's late father, George A. Gearhart, was publisher of the Northwest Arkansas Times in Fayetteville. His mother, Joan Gearhart Havens, lives in Fayetteville.

"I have many dreams and aspirations that I've long held for the University of Arkansas," Gearhart says, "and I look forward in the months and years ahead to sharing that vision and working with our outstanding students, faculty, staff, alumni and friends, and certainly the board of trustees, on reaching our lofty goals and realizing the full potential of our university."

Howard Brill, Faculty Athletics Representative

In his 15th year as the university's faculty representative for athletics is Howard W. Brill. A law professor at Arkansas since 1975, Brill served as the interim dean of the UA Law School during 2005-06. He previously served as a member of the Faculty Athletics Committee from 1991-94 and was on a special committee to prepare the SEC's Gender Equity Policy in the spring of 1994. He chaired Arkansas' NCAA Self-Study committee (1998) and co-chaired the second Self Study Committee (2004).

Brill is a 1965 graduate of Duke and earned his law degree at Florida in 1970. He received his Master's of law degree at Illinois in 1979. Brill has written two books on Arkansas law and has received several awards honoring his teaching. He is licensed to practice law in Arkansas, Florida and Illinois; he is on the Professional Ethics Committee and the state Judicial Ethics Advisory Committee.

He is the Vincent Foster Professor of Legal Ethics and Professional Responsibility. Along with other courses, he teaches Baseball and the Law. He has served on the Governor's Code of Ethics Commission and as a Special Justice of the Arkansas Supreme Court.

Active in community service, Brill has served as chairman of the City of Fayetteville's Civil Service Commission, has coached youth soccer and basketball and is a Sunday School teacher. He and his wife Katherine have three children, Christian, Elizabeth and Andrew.

The Bogle Academic Center

There is no higher priority for the University of Arkansas Athletic Department than the academic progress of its scholar-athletes. Thanks to the generous gift of Bob and Marilyn Bogle, the home of the Razorback Athletic Department's Student-Athlete Academic Support and Achievement program is the Bob and Marilyn Bogle Academic Center. The 15,000-square foot Bogle Academic Center is located in the east side of Donald W. Reynolds Razorback Stadium. Under the overall direction of Senior Associate Athletic Director Jon Fagg, the Bogle Academic Center houses the Arkansas Razorbacks Academic Support Program, the Razorback Office of Student Life and the Career Development Program.

Associate Athletic Director for Student-Athlete Support Services Melissa Harwood-Rom oversees the staff of professionals dedicated to directing student-athletes to reach their personal academic goals, and to do so in ways that balance their academic, athletic and personal lives.

Razorback men's track has a strong history of athletic and academic prowess. Distance runner Lane Boyer (#10, at left) and field event specialist Luke Laird (right) were named to the 2009 Southeastern Conference Academic Honor Roll.

Student-Athlete Academic Support and Achievement Services

The Mission Statement for the Razorback Student-Athlete Academic Support and Achievement division -- SAASA -- speaks for itself, but the improvements and achievements of the Razorbacks over the past academic year are what is most important.

At Arkansas, academic services are not just good grades and eligibility. Along with 18 of 19 teams exceeding the NCAA standard for APR, Razorbacks earned some of the highest conference and national academic honors in the 2008-09 year including a pair of Southeastern Conference Scholar-Athletes of the Year

It is also not about honoring the "A" student. Arkansas Athletics is committed to every single athlete improving his or her academic performance every semester, working to achieve academic "personal bests" with each class just the same as we would expect our athletes to hit personal records in competition.

STUDENT-ATHLETE ACADEMIC SUPPORT AND ACHIEVEMENT MISSION STATEMENT

The primary focus of the Razorback Student-Athlete Academic Support and Achievement Program is to provide the student-athlete with the opportunity to develop the skills necessary to be a success in college and in life. This is accomplished through superior academic counseling, life skills training and preparation to enter the job market upon graduation.

University of Arkansas Academic Game Plan for Graduation

Student-athletes are expected to meet specific academic criteria in order to maintain eligibility. This is easily achieved by following the Academic Game Plan created by the Student-Athlete Academic Support and Achievement team.

The SAASA designs programs and sets specific goals to help student-athletes achieve academic success. An example of a key goal is the successful completion of 30 hours of coursework during each academic year. By maintaining this course load, Razorback athletes not only stay on track to graduate in four years, but easily meet eligibility requirements set by the NCAA.

Study Hall and Tutors

A quiet setting for uninterrupted study, the Bogle Academic Center provides three types of study hall space. The computer lab (above) has over 30 stations for individual computer-based study. An open study hall is available for group or individual study, and monitored by staff members of the SAASA. There are 17 individual study carrels that provide space for tutors to meet with student-athletes for individual instruction in specific subjects.

Each Razorback team sets its own criteria for study hall attendance. The use of tutors is a key element for academic success, allowing for individualized assistance and for reaching academic excellence in advanced subjects.

Class Attendance

The University of Arkansas Razorback Athletic Department has an overall student-athlete class attendance policy. Student-Athletes Academic Support and Achievement assists with the enforcement of this policy through regular checks on class attendance. If traveling with a team, student-athletes notify instructors early in each semester regarding assignments or exams.

Student Life

The social and personal development of student-athletes is as important to the University of Arkansas as the academic and athletic achievement. The Office of Student Life focuses on the personal development and community service components of the NCAA CHAMPS/LifeSkills program. Training is provided in a variety of areas including financial planning, drug and alcohol education, time management, study skills and developing community service activities.

Career Development

The purpose of the Career Development Program is to assist student-athletes in making a smooth transition from the University of Arkansas into the workplace. This process begins during the freshman year with a one-hour course on career options.

Workshops are held to provide student-athletes training in resume writing, interviewing skills and etiquette. Individual assistance with locating summer internships and job placement gives student-athletes a head start into their chosen careers.

Arkansas Razorbacks in the Community

Community service is a vital part of the educational process for any college student, and Razorback athletes took the lead in 2008-09 by registering a record number of hours of community service work.

The often reported bad news in college sports sometimes masks the overwhelming good things done by the vast majority of student-athletes.

Among the programs that built the more than 2,500 volunteer hours performed in the past academic year:

Participation in the campus-wide clean-up after the disastrous ice storm of the winter of 2009.

Going out to area elementary schools to support the Book Hogs reading program and the Sweat Haws physical education awareness program.

Individual team projects ranging from volunteering at the Fayetteville Public Library, working with Habitat for Humanity, assisting with area shelters or helping the local youth programs like the Scouts.

The quiet efforts of our 19 Razorback teams have a long-lasting impact on the youth of our state. The incredible positive benefit of the time spent by the Razorbacks helping the community pays tremendous dividends, not only for the University of Arkansas, but for the entire state.

And while we focus here on the positive benefits for the fresh young faces who receive an autograph or a kind word of encouragement from a Razorback, we know that there is a considerable impact upon our student-athletes, our future leaders. The opportunity to give back impresses upon them that no matter their personal circumstances when they arrived in Fayetteville, they have a chance to not only improve their lives, but touch the lives of others.

For the second year, Razorback athletes turned out to support Lift Up America. Football player Elton Ford (above) helps load a vehicle for one of the regional charities benefiting from the gift of food

Working over two weekends and incorporating home events at football, soccer and volleyball, the SAAC members gathered 10,000 pounds of non-perishable food items. In addition, the SAAC coordinated Razorback student-athletes volunteering as celebrity sackers at Fayetteville area grocery stores to raise awareness and collect more food items.

One of the largest department outreach programs is Book Hogs, an elementary school reading program that takes Razorback athletes into area schools for assemblies to emphasize the power of reading. Several athletes reached out to inspire future Razorbacks with their stories of the importance of reading and studying at 13 elementary schools in the area. Above left, Michael Smith and D.J. "The University of Arkansas isn't a huge university, but it has a huge reputation. My professors were concerned with my personal goals; concerned about how I wanted to develop as an individual. There is a great amount of one-on-one mentoring with the teachers. I think one of the greatest things about Arkansas is that you are an individual, a real person — not just an I.D. number — to the faculty and staff."

Tiffany Wright (BA, 1998)

Tiffany Wright went from 1998 NCAA Women's Final Four to graduation to sideline reporter for ESPN's coverage of the WNBA within weeks. Today, she is the sports anchor at ABC affiliate, WSOC, in Charlotte, N.C.

Jeff Long

Vice Chancellor for Intercollegiate Athletics and Director of Athletics

Entering his second full year as Vice Chancellor and Director of Athletics, Jeff Long has not only guided the University of Arkansas' Department of Intercollegiate Athletics through a period of unprecedented transition, he has transformed and revitalized a tradition-rich athletics program encompassing 19 sports and nearly 460 student-athletes. Long has not only accepted, but embraced the challenge of leading a Razorback program that serves as a source of pride for so many at the University of Arkansas, in all corners of the state and to thousands of Razorbacks all around the world.

Long has established a multi-faceted combined athletics program uniformly committed to the development of student-athletes academically, athletically and socially. A part of Chancellor G. David Gearhart's Executive Committee, Long and other members of the University's leadership team are charged with developing policies and charting the course for the future of higher education. Since his arrival, Long and his staff have re-engaged the athletic department with the University Community working to more fully integrate Razorback Athletics into the campus environment.

The success of Long's approach can be measured in part by the remarkable accomplishments of the Razorback program in his tenure. Arkansas has captured five conference championships and advanced to 25 post-season competitions while drawing more than a million fans annually to campus to cheer on the Razorbacks. In the classroom, the Razorbacks exceed national APR standards in 18 of 19 sports while nine of 15 sport programs improved their team GPA from 2007-08 to 2008-09. In the community, Razorback student-athletes are more active than ever volunteering more than 2,500 hours of time in between the rigors of school and athletic practice and competition.

Administratively, landmark agreements have been negotiated with ISP and with Southeastern Conference television partners to guarantee future revenue streams and secure the financial base of the program in uncertain economic times.

Even the most optimistic outlook would have been hard pressed to foresee the level of success that the Razorback program would attain in such a short time after Long was selected to replace legendary athletic director and former Razorback football coach Frank Broyles in September of 2007. Before Long officially took the reins, the University of Arkansas announced that it would combine its previously independent men's and women's athletic programs into one combined athletic program.

Shortly after that announcement, Long was busy engineering the first coaching search of his tenure. Long not only found the next head football coach, he convinced Bobby Petrino, one of the most successful collegiate coaches in recent history, to return to the college game and to Arkansas. Long made four other head coaching hires in his first year and a half, including hiring men's track and field coach Chris Bucknam to be the successor for John McDonnell, the most successful NCAA Division I track and field coach in history. In addition, Long added head coaches Robert Pulliza (volleyball), Erin Aubry (soccer) and Mike Larabee

(softball) to the Razorback staff.

By the time, Long officially started his new position on Jan. 1, 2008, he had already accomplished a list of tasks vital to the short and long-term health of the Razorback program. He had begun the process of carefully blending the men's and women's athletic departments into one unified department and establishing a new administrative structure. Under Long's leadership, Arkansas revised policies governing class attendance, drug testing, the NCAA Opportunity fund as well as other compliance and business office procedures. The academic support services division was re-organized and a formal division of student life was created focusing on student-athlete development and community service.

Long was busy on external issues as well. In 2008, Arkansas returned to the classic Razorback logo and dropped the usage of Lady Razorbacks as a nickname for women's athletic teams. The new branding was featured in the launch of a new website ArkansasRazorbacks.com.

Long worked tirelessly to maintain long-time relationships and to forge new relationships for the benefit of the Razorback program including extending Arkansas' relationship with War Memorial Stadium in Little Rock. Perhaps his most impressive accomplishment came when he brokered a new partnership with ISP to form Razorback Sports Properties. As economic indicators were beginning to point toward challenging economic times, Long signed Arkansas to a deal that will guarantee the Razorback program $73 million in the next 10 years.

A number of athletic facilities also saw a transformation with Bud Walton Arena undergoing extensive renovations, including replacement of the lower seating bowl and the addition of court-side seating, ribbon boards and a court-side club room. In the spring of 2009, Bogle Park, arguably the nation's best softball facility, was dedicated on the University of Arkansas campus.

Jeff Long announces the donation of $1 million to the University of Arkansas' general fund in the summer of 2008. University Chancellor Dr. G. David Gearhart (seated) indicated the effort by athletics was crucial to the University avoiding a tuition increase for the general student body for the first time in 24 years.

"We will provide opportunities for student-athletes to achieve their fullest potential academically, athletically, and socially, while competing successfully at the highest level."

Arkansas Vice Chancellor and Director of Athletics Jeff Long

Arkansas' program flourished in Long's first year, finishing 24th in the NACDA Directors Cup, its best finish in nearly a decade. In his first full year at the helm, Arkansas scored a program record 730 points on its way to a 25th-place finish. The back-to-back top 25 Directors Cup finishes marked only the second time in school history the Razorbacks accomplished that feat.

A veteran administrator with a track record of the highest commitment to the concept of "student-athlete," Long has had more than two decades experience in athletic administration at the Division I level including at the University of Pittsburgh, University of Oklahoma, University of Michigan, Virginia Tech University and Eastern Kentucky University prior to arriving at the University of Arkansas. While known as an innovator in athletic department management, Long also understands the coach's perspective from time spent in coaching and administrative staff positions at Duke University, Rice University and North Carolina State University.

On the forefront of NCAA governance, Long served on the NCAA Management Council as one of the athletic administrators who oversaw the operations and regulation for Division I. His experience as an athletic director and administrator in America's most prestigious conferences – the Big 12, Big Ten, Big East, Atlantic Coast and now Southeastern Conference gives Long a uniquely informed perspective on intercollegiate athletics. During his career, Long has served in five of the six Bowl Championship Series leagues.

Prior to assuming his current roles at Arkansas, Long served for four years as the athletic director at the University of Pittsburgh. During his tenure, Long redefined Pitt athletics, most notably through the "Quest for Excellence" campaign. Designed to enhance the student-athlete experience for Panther athletes through scholarship endowments and capital gifts for facility construction and renovation, the Quest resulted in almost $34 million in just over two and a half years.

His commitment to building the Pitt athletics brand resulted in a new primary mark for the Panthers which returned the powerful "PITT" brand to the University of Pittsburgh. He established a partnership with adidas for uniforms and apparel for all 19 Pitt teams and an agreement with ISP Sports.

Long's four-year tenure added up to Pittsburgh becoming one of the nation's top programs, notably the Panthers' selection as the No. 17 overall program in the nation in the December 2006 Sports Illustrated on Campus' All-Sport Rankings.

As an athletic leader, Long was a key advocate for the Big East during the league's time of membership transition. Due in part to his leadership, the Big East maintained its position as a key member of the Bowl Championship System, and the Pitt Panthers earned the Big East's automatic berth in 2004 at the Tostitos Fiesta Bowl. Along with his tenure on the Executive Council, Long also served on the NCAA's Sports Wagering Task Force in 2004, and as a member of the Executive Committee of the Division I-A Athletic Directors' Association.

Before arriving at Pitt, Long was senior associate athletic director at Oklahoma for two and a half years. Responsible for the external affairs of the Sooners, he oversaw key brand areas of marketing and promotions, licensing, media relations, ticketing, radio and television rights and SoonerVision productions. In addition, Long was the primary administrator for the Sooners' highly successful football and men's basketball programs, along with sport supervision of baseball, wrestling and both golf teams.

Long's first appointment as a director of athletics was at Eastern Kentucky where he served for two and a half years. He made several revisions to the ECU athletic infrastructure and completed several facility projects. Long created the first modern corporate partner and sponsorship structure at ECU. Prior to Eastern, Long had a brief stay with Virginia Tech as an associate athletics director.

He began his career in college athletic administration at the University of Michigan, hired by legendary coach and athletics director, the late Bo Schembechler. During his seasons with the Wolverines, Long was promoted through a series of posts to the position of associate athletics director.

A former two-sport athlete at Ohio Wesleyan, Long earned seven varsity letters for the Bishops in football and baseball before completing his degree in economics in 1982. He started his post-graduate career in athletics as a graduate assistant football coach at the cradle of coaches, Miami University of Ohio. Long earned his master's in education at Miami in 1983, moving on to football staff positions at Rice, Duke and NC State prior to joining Michigan.

An Ohio native from Kettering, Long is married to the former Fanny Gellrich of Ann Arbor, Mich. The Longs have two daughters, Stephanie and Christina.

For the first time in school history, all 19 Razorback head coaches and members of the athletic department's executive and senior administrative staffs are members of the Razorback Foundation. The pledge of personal support by those inside the department led the way for a growth in membership that saw the membership total increase from 10,390 in November 2008 to 10,530 in June 2009.

From January to June 2009, Razorback Foundation staff visited with more than 11,000 people at 50 Razorback Club functions, ranging from chapter meetings to scholarship fundraising golf events hosted by local Razorback Clubs.

Another key factor in raising the profile of the Razorback Foundation and fostering membership growth was a renewed commitment to increasing A Club membership (former Razorback letter winners) and enhancing communication and coordination with Razorback Clubs throughout the region. To help facilitate communication with all foundation members, a new web site RazorbackFoundation.com was launched.

The Foundation, officially incorporated and relocated off campus in 1988, has helped provide financial aid for the construction for the Broyles Athletic Center (football and administrative offices), Charlie Baum Stadium at George Cole Field (baseball), John McDonnell Field (outdoor track and field), Randal Tyson Track Center (indoor track and field), Dills Indoor Tennis Center, the George M. Billingsley Tennis Center (outdoor tennis) and Donald W. Reynolds Razorback Stadium (football).

Five NCAA Regional Champions, four Southeastern Conference titles, one NCAA national championship runner-up and a third-place tie highlighted a season of athletic achievement for the University of Arkansas. Of the 19 Razorback teams, 14 made post-season team appearances.

It all added up to a record performance in the NACDA Director's Cup for the Arkansas Athletic Department in its first full season under Jeff Long. The Razorbacks were 25th in the 2008-09 standings, and second in the nation among programs with less than 20 sports.

The 25th place gives the Razorbacks their first back-to-back finishes in the NACDA top 25 since the mid-1990s.

Four Razorback teams reached the pinnacles of their sport tournaments, led by the baseball team's run to the College World Series and gymnastics' first-ever appearance in the Super Six.

Men's golf returned to the championship round, and powered its way through the match play to within a single putt of the NCAA Championship. The thrilling runner-up performance is the highest finish by men's golf in Razorback history. Men's and women's cross country advanced from the South Central Regional with the women taking the regional title. The women's tennis won their own regional first and second round event to repeat in the NCAA Championship with a finish in the round of 16. Softball and women's golf rounded out the Razorback teams advancing to the NCAA Regionals, while women's basketball reached the round of 16 in the Women's NIT.

Both track and field programs and the swimming and diving team scored national performances in their respective meets. Coming off a 2009 NCAA Midwest Regional team title, the Razorback men's track team placed ninth at nationals. The men were also eighth at the NCAA Indoors. Arkansas' women went 20th indoors and 29th outdoors. A record-setting season in the pool led the Razorbacks to a 27th finish at the NCAA Championships.

In conference, Arkansas captured the men's track and field sweep with both indoors and outdoors. Women's cross country added another running trophy to continue their dominance as the leading distance program in the SEC. Women's tennis repeated as the SEC Western Division champions in 2009.

Celebrating a Century of Razorbacks

The legend of the Razorback began after the turn of the century when Arkansas football coach Hugo Bezdek called his players "a wild band of Razorback hogs," after guiding his team to a 16-0 victory over Louisiana State on Nov. 13, 1909.

At the time, the university mascot was a Cardinal bird, matching the school's Cardinal and White colors.

Alluding to the Razorback, characterized by a ridge back and tenacious, wild fighting ability, Bezdek never forgot this idea and often called his team "a fighting band of Razorbacks." This new nickname became increasingly popular, and soon references to "razorbacks" began to appear in yearbooks and press accounts of athletic activities. By the following fall, the student body voted to change the official University mascot from the Cardinal to the Razorbacks in 1910.

To mark the 100th year since Coach Bezdek's proclamation and the student body vote, the Athletic Department proclaimed a year-long series of events to highlight the start of Razorbacks during the 2009-10 academic year.

All 19 Razorback teams join in the department-wide celebration with special logos on all uniforms and placed in all home venues.

There are dozens of Lions, Tigers and Bears, but in all of college athletics there is only one Razorback. The distinctive logo of the Arkansas teams is officially known as the Classic Razorback, but is known to many fans as the Helmet Hog -- a fixture of the football team's helmet for almost half a century.

There are plenty of powerful mascots in college athletics, but none as unique as the Razorback. Not many school mascots have escaped from their homes, not once, but twice, to ravage the local country side. By their nature, the Razorbacks are hard to contain.

A Mascot Like No Other

The wild hogs known as razorbacks native to the Arkansas wilderness bear no resemblance to the typical barnyard pig of today. The untamed razorback hog was a lean, feral animal that was ill-tempered. It fought and defeated anything that crossed its path, man or beast. Turn of the 20th century outdoor magazines lauded the razorback as "the most intelligent of all the hogs and is likewise the most courageous. . . . He has a clear, farseeing eye."

Except for the rare sighting in the Australian Outback, the Razorback only exists today in the form of Arkansas' players and fans. A Russian boar, which closely resembles the wild hog of Hugo Bezdek's day, currently serves as the official live mascot.

Tusk II is cared for by the Stokes family of Dardanelle, Ark., and travels to home games and special events for the Razorbacks. Tusk II is supported by the legacy program known as the Tusk Fund, and fans can participate by sending their support care of the Razorback Foundation, Inc.

While yearbook references as early as 1914 of a hog on the sideline at football games, a formal live mascot prior to the Tusk line dates back to the 1960s with a series of hogs that represented Arkansas. In addition to appearances at games, they have gained a reputation for fierce behavior.

Big Red III escaped from an exhibit near Eureka Springs in the summer of 1977 and ravaged the countryside before being gunned down by an irate farmer. Another live mascot, Ragnar, was a wild hog captured in south Arkansas by Leola farmer Bill Robinson. Before Ragnar's spree was done, the mighty animal had killed a coyote, a 450-pound domestic pig and seven rattlesnakes. Ragnar died in 1978 of unknown causes.

"To sit in the stands now, I still get chill bumps every time."

1989 All-American offensive tackle Jim Mabry on what it means to a Razorback to run through the "A"

Running Through The "A"

For Razorback football players, there is nothing to compare with entering the stadium for a home Arkansas game. The emotion of running through the "A" stays with a player for life.

Lloyd Phillips won the Outland Trophy more than three decades ago. The veteran of the 1964 national championship team, Phillips remembers it like it was yesterday.

"The butterflies are flowing and you are [running], but it doesn't feel like your feet are even touching the ground," the 1966 Outland winner recalls.

Two-time Doak Walker Award winner and two-time Heisman runner-up Darren McFadden agrees.

"It is hard to describe the feeling you get as a Razorback player right before you take the field for a game," McFadden said. "You can hear more than 70 thousand fans calling the Hogs and can feel the excitement building. I will always remember that special feeling of running through the 'A'."

The Razorback Marching Band sets the stage by forming a huge "A" as they march the length of the field playing Arkansas Fight. When they finish, the "A" stretches from the Razorback locker room to midfield. To the roar of the crowd and the band blasting out Arkansas Fight, the current Razorbacks run onto the field through the "A," connecting them to generations of previous men in the Cardinal and White.

"Just to be able to run through that 'A' and hear the fans cheer for you is unbelievable," 1989 All-American offensive tackle Jim Mabry said. "To sit in the stands now, I still get chill bumps every time the band starts playing and I see the guys running out."

A Proper Hog Call

A chant of "Woo Pig Sooie" is known worldwide as a Hog Call. Just like any good tradition, there are lots of versions of the Hog Call (even spellings).

A properly executed Hog Call is composed of three "calls," slowly raising one's arms from the knees to above the head during the "Woo." Traditionalists prescribe an eight second "Woo." The fingers should be wiggled and the "Woo" should build in volume and pitch as the arms rise.

Upon completion of the "Woo," both arms are brought straight down with fists clinched as if executing a chin-up while yelling, "Pig". The right arm is extended up and out with the "Sooie."

A full Hog Call -- the kind one will always hear victorious Razorback teams execute after contests -- requires two more Hog Calls, followed immediately by a "Razor-Backs" yell, coordinated with a pumping motion of the right arm after the third "Sooie." So, in order, the full Hog Call is:

Woooooooo. Pig. Sooie!
Woooooooo. Pig. Sooie!
Woooooooo. Pig. Sooie!
Razorbacks!

The Hog Hat

It is true; no Razorback fan's closet is complete without an official Hog Hat. The original style was a hard plastic hat with a long snout, rough razorback ridges across the top and wickedly sharp, pointed curly-cue tail. The modern versions are often sculpted from softer material. Regardless, the Hog Hat is undoubtedly the most recognized piece of fan apparel in college athletics. Just ask ESPN GameDay's Kirk Herbstreit as he dons the traditional Hog Hat.

Razorback Spirit Squads

Along with being a Razorback, serving as a Razorback cheerleader has a long tradition at the University of Arkansas. Currently, the Razorbacks have two squads, a Red and White, that inspire the crowds at all home sporting events.

Arkansas also has a dance team, the Razorback Pom Squad, which performs at halftime of many events. Members of the Pom Squad also serve at baseball games as RBI Girls.

Arkansas has a team of uniformed mascots, led by the original Big Red, the Fighting Razorback. Sue E. joined the family along with kid-sized Pork Chop in the late 1990s. Boss Hog is a 9-foot-tall inflatable mascot that rounds out the team.

Jean Nail serves as the coordinator for cheerleaders and mascots. For more information on the cheer squads and tryouts, go to the Spirit Squad section of ArkansasRazorbacks.com.

Arkansas Fight

One of the first tasks of a new Razorback is learning to sing the University of Arkansas fight song. Arkansas Fight was written in the late 1920s. It is a unique tune, fitting of the only college in America with a Razorback mascot. Several other colleges have adapted the tune, but the lyrics remain unique to Arkansas.

Hit that line! Hit that line!
 Keep on going!
 Take that ball right down the field!
 Give a cheer. Rah! Rah!
 Never fear. Rah! Rah!
 Arkansas will never yield!
 On your toes, Razorbacks,
 to the finish,
 Carry on with all your might!
 For it's A-A-A-R-K-A-N-S-A-S
 for Arkansas!
 Fight! Fight! Fi-i-i-ight!

The UA Alma Mater

Brodie Payne and Henry Tovey wrote the University of Arkansas Alma Mater in the early 1900s. They were inspired by the Ozark Mountain sunrise as it illuminated Old Main. Pure as the dawn on the brow of thy beauty, Watches thy Soul from the mountains of God.

 Over the fates of thy children departed,
 Far from the land where their footsteps have trod.

 Beacon of hope in the ways dreary lighted,
 Pride of our hearts that are loyal and true.
 From those who adore unto one who adores us,
 Mother of Mothers, we sing unto you.
